DETAILED ACTION

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 14-18 and 31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 14 is indefinite because in step c, line 1, there is no direct antecedent basis for the recitation of "the impregnated porous support". Claims 15-18 are indefinite because they depend from indefinite claim 14. Claim 31 is indefinite because it is a duplicate claim to claim 25. Either change the dependency of claim 31 or delete it.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-13, 19-25 and 30-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Golden et al. (5,536,302) in view of either Otsuka et al. (2002/034467) or EP reference number 1,176,120 A1. Golden et al. ('302) show the use of an adsorbent made of a reduced metal oxide on a porous support for the removal of impurities from a hydride gas stream. The claims differ from the disclosure of Golden et al. ('302) in the further use of a desiccant material after the adsorbent for the removal of moisture. Either Otsuka et al. (2002/0034467) or EP 1,176,120 A1 (which appears to be for the same applicants as Otsuka et al.), show the use of an adsorbent containing a reduced metal oxide and a desiccant material for the removal of contaminants from a feed gas stream. See specifically Tables 2-5 and their corresponding description. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to use a desiccant material after the adsorbent of Golden et al. ('302), in view of the showing of either Otsuka et al. (2002/0034467) or EP 1,176,120 A1, so that any moisture which would affect downstream use of the feed gas will be removed.

5. Claims 14-18 and 26-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Golden et al. (5,536,302) in view of either Otsuka et al. (2002/0034467) or EP 1,176,120 A1, as applied in the paragraph directly above, further in view of Liu et al. (4,795,735). The claims differ from the disclosure of modified Golden et al. ('302) in the combining of the adsorbent and desiccant materials into a composite material. Liu et al. ('735) show the combining of activated carbon (adsorbent) and alumina (desiccant) to form a composite purification material. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to combine the adsorbent and desiccant materials of modified Golden et al. ('302) into a composite material, in view of the showing of Liu et al. ('735), so that the material can be more efficiently utilized.

6. The remaining references listed on both the PTO-1449 and the PTO-892 show art of interest.

7. Applicants response to this Office action should also include the following editorial changes: para. [0007], line 2, "of" should be inserted after "removal"; para. [0020], line 4, "a" should be inserted after "has"; para. [0034], line 12, "of" should be inserted after "layer"; para. [0037], line 5, "dessicants" should be "desiccants"; para. [0038], line 4, "dessicant" should be "desiccant"; claim 7, line 2, "is in the range of about" should be deleted as it is duplicative; and, in claim 8, line 1, "of" should be inserted after "removal".

8. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Robert H. Spitzer whose telephone number is (571) 272-1167. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Thursday from (5:30AM-4:00PM).
